

THE NEXT THREE WEEKS ARE CRUCIAL.

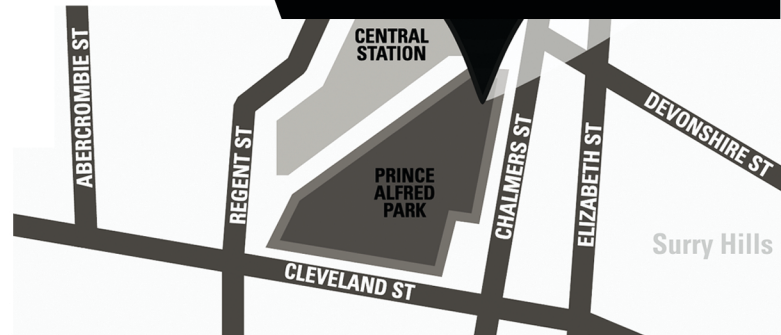

The Government, Greens and Independents are deciding whether to be ambitious when setting their carbon price and investments in renewable energy or whether to give in to big polluters.

There has never been a more important moment than now to come together. On June 5, if enough of us act, we'll change the debate over a carbon price from fear mongering over the cost of action, to awareness raising about the possibility of a clean energy future.

SAY YES TO A CLEANER AUSTRALIA.
